Dear Mr. Masland,

Thanks for your letter of the 11th, the A & E JFK assassination series cassettes, which got her the same time, and for your care to record with the best possible quality.

If I did not mention it when you were here, what I think is the best JFK assassination documentary is "Reasonable Doubt," now available commercially.

It was the master's thesis of Gerard Selby, Univ. of Md., and it won the highest honor in the competition a couple of years ago in the history division.

Deals with the single-bullet theory that is the basis of the official solution.

If I also did not mention it, we now have a xerox version of Oswald in New Orleans.

It is two book pages to one side of a sheet of letter-size paper.

We hope you enjoy your retirement!

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
